THIS WEEK'S BIBLE STORY

This week the students are learning about how God protected Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednigo from the fiery furnace. God still protects us today and loves us very much. The children are learning God's love and protection are constant and He is always with us.

FIRE FIGHTER MARJA VISITS

With this week's Bible story and our theme being about fire safety we invited Firefighter Marja to our preschool to visit. She spoke to the children about fire safety: stop, drop, & roll; let adults touch hot items; a family exit plan at home; get out & stay out; & the importance of smoke detectors. (Let me know if your residence is without them. Marja will supply your home with them.) Ask your children about Firefighter Marja's visit. Please make sure your children can call 911 on one of your phones, especially if you do not have a land line.

NOSE BLOWING

Nose blowing is a learned skill that can be worked on with young children. Help your child learn to blow their nose correctly by letting them know they need to keep their mouth closed and blow the air out through their nose. Next work on having the child hold the tissue as they blow their own nose. It does take practice and time, however, it is well worth it.

VETERAN'S DAY

Please remember we will be closed next Friday, November 11th, for Veteran's Day. May we all appreciate what our veterans have done for us and continue to do along with our current service members.

EDUCATOR'S CONFERENCE

The conference at Seaside was a great affirmation of what we do for the children and families in our preschool. It also gave more credibility to the idea of oral reading to children – and not just young children – all children aged through high school. Young minds develop sequencing, vocabulary, diction, listening skills, comprehension, imagination, and more when others read to them. Keep up the great work with reading and allowing your child to follow along as you read.
